

Investigate book arts at the Fair.

The Guild of Book Workers promotes interest in and awareness of the tradition of the book and paper arts by maintaining high standards of workmanship, hosting educational opportunities, and sponsoring exhibits. An exhibit of contemporary book art by regional binders, courtesy of Abecedarian Gallery is on display as well as samples of work completed in workshops sponsored by the Rocky Mtn. chapter of GBW.

The Englewood Depot is in the process of becoming a living museum of letterpress printing – a working vintage letterpress printshop, with space for exhibits, demonstrations, workshops, events and meetings, as well as typographic research and printing projects. Tom Parson, master printer and director of the Depot will be demonstrating his craft and encouraging you to try your hand at printing. Letterpress cards, broadsides and posters will be available for purchase. All proceeds benefit the Depot.

The Book Arts League is a nonprofit community arts organization in Lafayette working to preserve the historic tools and crafts of the book arts, including printing, typography, bookbinding, and papermaking. The Book Arts League is open to all persons interested in keeping alive the book arts and promoting a love of books and literacy.

The Colorado Calligraphers Guild promotes the study, practice and appreciation of calligraphy in all its historical and present day applications, to encourage individual excellence and foster a deeper understanding of calligraphy via workshops, demonstrations and exhibits.

Learn about care and handling of books and paper and watch demonstrations of simple repair techniques by AIC professional associate, Karen Jones. In keeping with the theme of the fair (pulp fiction), damage to collections caused by mold and vermin will be explored and explained. Questions welcome.
