Notes: _____

Welcome

to the 32nd Rocky Mountain Book & Paper Fair!

Every year on the first Friday and Saturday of August, the Rocky Mountain Antiquarian Booksellers Association brings together world-class exhibitors, special guests and you, our excellent attendees and visitors. Our returning exhibitors and several new exhibitors have come from near and far to bring you very special selections of books, maps, art, postcards and ephemera.

Welcome & Enjoy!

— Security Statement —

For the purpose of protecting the valuable materials assembled at the Fair, all purchases and bags of any kind will be checked by our security staff upon leaving the building. You may safely check your items at the Bag Check opposite the Ticket Counter at the building entrance.

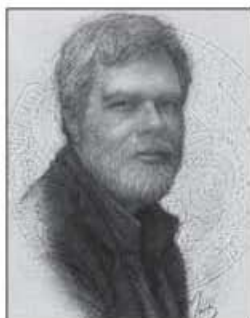

All items purchased at the book fair must be placed in a plastic bag, closed and sealed with an exhibitor label. Bags and labels are provided by the exhibitors. Your purchases will not be allowed to leave the exhibitor floor without the proper packaging.

Your Personal Items for Exhibitor Review

To avoid confusion during security check-out, we cannot allow personal items similar to those sold at the fair on the floor. If you bring an item for an exhibitor to see, you will need to check it at Bag Check or leave it in your car. The exhibitor will need to go with you to review the item.

Thank you for your cooperation on these matters.

Special Guests

THOMAS HALLER BUCHANAN,

Featured Author

Saturday, August 6, 11:00am

Tom is a commissioned artist, illustrator and visual designer. He has worked in every artistic medium, for all communications media, creating commissioned portraits, fine art, murals and illustrations throughout the country.

Thom is also the editor, creative director and sometimes illustrator of Pictorial Arts Journal, an online publication that showcases and promotes the significance of the pictorial arts.

Thom is an enthusiastic promoter of work that emanated from the Golden Age of the early 20th century and has much to show and tell on the subject.

Book talk and signing

Thom will discuss, sign and sell his newest publication: Beauty and the Book — An Autobiographical Examination

This is a sumptuous survey of some of the greatest images ever created during a golden age of creativity from 1880–1950, covering ephemera such as books, magazines, pulps, comics, posters, advertising and other printed material that are vibrant and visionary, with timeless illustrations and graphic design.

KAREN JONES

Featured Presenter

Caring For Your Collection

Saturday, August 6, 1:00pm

Learn best practices for keeping your collection in prime condition. Basic care and safe handling of books and paper will be covered, with time for questions and a short demonstration. Karen has been a book and paper conservator in private practice for 30 years. A professional associate member of the American Institute for Conservation since 1990, she is also an employee of Jefferson County Public Library.

Karen currently serves as co-chair of the Rocky Mountain Chapter of the Guild of Book Workers. The GBW, established in 1906, promotes interest in and awareness of the tradition of the book and paper arts by maintaining high standards of workmanship, hosting educational opportunities and sponsoring exhibits.

Special Exhibitors: Displays

Englewood Depot Printing Museum, Booth 78

Demonstration and exhibit of letterpress printing and related book arts by the Englewood Letterpress Depot. Examples of printed pieces from the Depot will be available for browsing by Fair goers. Tom Parson is the Executive Director for the Depot project.

The Book Arts League, Booth 81

Tom Parson is also on the board for the Book Arts League. The BAL's mission is to be a community resource for the traditional and contemporary arts and crafts of the book. A historic Boulder County homestead settled over 125 years ago at what was then called "Eight-Mile Corner" (now 95th and Arapahoe streets in Lafayette) serves as headquarters and studio for the League, while providing a permanent home for their antique letterpress collection. The Book Arts League has partnered with the City of Lafayette to preserve the historic structures and provide for their maintenance while using the Farm.

The Guild of Book Workers, Booths 79-80

The Guild of Book Workers, established in 1906, promotes interest in and awareness of the tradition of the book and paper arts by maintaining high standards of workmanship, hosting educational opportunities and sponsoring exhibits.

Abecedarian Gallery, 910 Santa Fe Drive, Denver, exhibits and represents artists working in the field of artists' books and prints. Long-time Guild of Book Workers board member is Abecedarian owner and curator Alicia Bailey, who will display treasures from her gallery in the Guild's booth.

Wild West History Association, Booth 49

The Wild West History Association is widely dedicated to providing scholarly articles by leading researchers and authorities of the American Old West in quarterly publication journals. Our members include many prominent and aspiring authors, researchers, and collectors. The WWHA is exhibiting at the Fair to locate people of like interests and who may seek primary documents, photos, and first-hand accounts regarding important events and people in the Old West.

In Memoriam

Naioma Walberg

1957–2016

Founder of the Rocky Mountain Antiquarian Book Fair in 1985

In 1985, a 28-year-old bookseller named Naioma Walberg, who had never attended a book fair, decided that Denver should have one. She and her mother hand-addressed invitations to 400 prospective exhibitors and rented the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. She enlisted all her relatives and those of her husband Brad. It was a huge success, with booksellers from all over North America and 1500 paying customers.

It is my sad duty to tell you that Naioma died of a massive heart attack June 13 at a youthful 59 years. Over the years she created the Denver Book Mall, first in a small location and then a very large shop at 32 Broadway, which broke up only because the building was sold. (It's a restaurant now.)

Eventually she decided she needed a "real job" with benefits and worked at the Parker Public Library in the Douglas County system. It was a long commute, but she continued to live in North Denver with Brad and his amazing garden. And she kept thinking up book projects. She helped me contact under-funded public libraries that could take as donations to their inventories 3,000 books about Colorado culled from a private collection.

I realize this is very personal, but Brad told me she did not want to have a funeral or even an announcement. Personally, I could not allow her passing be ignored.

With love,
Linda Lebsack

Thank You

Thanks to our very special presenters Thomas Haller Buchanan and Karen Jones for taking time out of their busy lives to present their material and expertise to our visitors.

Additional thanks to the Guild of Book Workers, Englewood Depot Printing Museum and the Book Arts League, Wild West History Association and Friday luncheon sponsors Broadway Book Mall, Gallagher Books and West Side Books. Special thanks to Alicia Bailey of Abecedarian Gallery.

Special appreciation is due for long-time, volunteer Book Fair Committee Members Sue Gallagher, Lois Harvey and Nina Else. They have all worked tirelessly to make the Rocky Mountain Book & Paper Fair a success.

Our contractors have worked on our behalf to produce a first class show and deserve recognition: Steve Cruz, graphic artist; Jim Arner, of Book Ranch/G-Jim's Emporium, our Webmaster and RMABA member; Traci Anderson and Sean Daley of the Denver Mart and Daniel Reike, Dynamic Events of Denver, who provided our showcase and table cover rentals.

Thanks to Event Manager Lisa Rogers, overall helpers Julie Fauble Garrett and Suzie Crase as well our crew and all our wonderful volunteers and sherpas.

Without our exhibitors, volunteers, the good people of the Denver Mart, the RMABA executive committee and members, and others we may have failed to mention, this would not have come together for the enjoyment, camaraderie and shopping pleasure of all.

We thank you all for coming and we'll see you again next year for the 33rd Rocky Mountain Book & Paper Fair, on August 4-5, 2017 at the Denver Mart.

Eric Mayer, Chairman, Fair Committee
